October 2nd, 1917

Rev. A. P. Fitch, D.D.,

Amherst College,

Amherst, Mass.

My dear Dr. Fitch:

Would it be at all possible for you to preach us a sermon in the University during the Easter Term of 1918 ? We have vacancies on 20th January, 10th of February, and any day in March except the 17th. The only possibility of a clash would be with Dr. Eaton of New York. I am not quite sure what day he will take, but if you can possibly come we will try and get a day that will suit you. Of course we have not the attendance of students that we once had, but you will have, I am sure, a large and appreciative congregation if you will come.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
